

Role Play Script

W is waiting alone, glancing at his watch.

W

Where is he? He's already two minutes late.

A walks in.

A

Ah, hello, my friend. How have you been?

W extends his hand for a handshake, A comes in for a hug. They settle for an awkward half-hug-half-handshake situation.

W

Alright, let's get down to business.

A

Ah, yes, yes, you're always about business. But first, let me ask you: How have you been?
How is your family?

W

Everything is good, thank you for asking. Now, can we get to the point? I need you to review these documents.

A

Yes, yes, of course, my friend. My family is great too. Children are a beautiful thing, aren't they? Just the other day my daughter started walking. You should come and visit us sometime, get to know my family. My wife would love to finally meet you.

W

Oh yes, yes, of course. Congratulations. But let us do business first, ok?

A

Ah, this reminds me. It's been really hot these last few days; really reminds me of home, you know. Isn't it nice to think about home from time to time?

W

It is. I would really like to be back in Germany.
